Dear UW-Stout Alumni:

I believe that UW-Stout graduates play a greater ongoing role in the support of this institution than at any other state university in the country. Our graduates are fiercely loyal to the university and are key players in spreading the word nationally on the educational quality that we maintain. Alumni understand and support our special mission. They keep us informed about changes in their respective fields and aid us in keeping curriculum current to those changes.

Alumni also are actively involved in the financial support of UW-Stout. They were a key element in the growth of the foundation where assets have increased nearly five times in the past seven years, with alumni responsible for about half of the total growth. Our graduates endow numerous student scholarships, provide funds for faculty development, and finance special projects that simply would not be possible without their support. Most importantly, alumni serve as role models for our students and demonstrate to their employers that a degree from UW-Stout is a great asset.

I have the pleasure of meeting alumni throughout the country during their campus visits and at receptions we hold in various locations. Their enthusiasm and concern for UW-Stout is always most gratifying. We call UW-Stout "the school of choice for the 21st century" and I believe that is true, to a large measure, because of our alumni. Thank you for your support of and confidence in your university.

Sincerely,

THE FOUNDER

If James Huff Stout were to return today to the institution he founded in 1891, he wouldn't recognize most of the campus; nor would he be familiar with the specialized majors offered by what is now University of Wisconsin-Stout. Yet, upon close examination of the university's current mission, he would undoubtedly conclude that the spirit of his forward-looking vision lives on today.

James Huff Stout was born and grew up in Dubuque, Iowa. He entered his father's lumber business at age 19, spent some years in Read's Landing, Minnesota, and Washington, D.C., and then settled in Menomonie, Wisconsin, where he resided for the last 20 years of his life. Today the name Stout is readily associated with the University of Wisconsin-Stout and with the Knapp-Stout lumber company. While Stout's principal claim to fame lies in his laying a foundation for a great university, his prominence in other Wisconsin and national affairs has largely been forgotten.

The neglect of these contributions was due in part to his own unassuming posture and seeming avoidance of public praise. During his residence in Wisconsin, he accomplished a great deal in educational change, the development of libraries, the "good roads movement," and in other progressive enterprises. He was a civic leader and served as a state legislator.

Admittedly, Stout was able to accomplish much of what he did by means of his wealth. The exploitation of the great white pine forest of northern Wisconsin yielded significant fortunes for the families involved in Knapp, Stout & Co. Stout used his money to improve the quality of life for those less fortunate.

UW-Stout is a monument to the man and his ideas—the only institution in the UW system named for an individual.

The development staff of the Stout Foundation will be pleased to assist you in determining the best option for your situation.

MEMORIAL AND HONORARY GIFTS

A memorial or honorary gift is a special way to recognize a loved one or friend's life and accomplishments.
